Dear Nathaniel:

I regret to inform you that we are unable to admit you to the Ph.D. Program in Computer Science at Carnegie Mellon University. We received nearly 1300 applications this year, and our program can support only a small number of new students. Unfortunately, this means that there were many highly qualified applicants we could not admit.

If you have applied to more than one program within the School of Computer Science, you will hear from each program individually.

We wish you the best in your future endeavors.
